VINTAGE

The winter months were mainly sunny but very cold. In spring the temperature was slow to rise, and that delayed the vegetative development of the vines. This was only partly compensated by the warm and sunny start to the summer, while the weather in July and August was very varied. The grape harvest accordingly began relatively late, on September 9. The wet September was an organizational problem for our wine growers, but ultimately a very good harvest was completed on October 26.

VINIFICATION

The first blush of pigment is allowed to color the must before part of it is drained off to be fermented at cool temperatures as a rosé wine.

TASTING NOTES

- light pink-ruby in color
- delicately fruity, reminiscent of raspberries and wild cherries
- fresh and juicy on the palate

RECOMMENDATION

This wine pairs well with heavier appetizers, as well as fish and white meats. It is a great summer wine.
